ANSWERS TO COMMON QUESTIONS

Find below answers to the most commonly asked questions relating to our garden rooms.

+ DO I NEED PLANNING PERMISSION?

Most garden rooms do not require planning permission as they are covered under permitted development. On the occasion that planning permission would be required, Ashdale Home Improvements take care of this for you.

+ WHAT DOES PERMITTED DEVELOPMENT MEAN?

Permitted development means that you are able to make certain changes to your property without planning permission.

+ HOW LONG DOES IT NORMALLY TAKE TO BUILD MY GARDEN ROOM?

Usually around 8-10 working days, this includes the installation of the base.

+ WILL I NEED TO BE AT HOME DURING THE BUILD?

We would ask you to be available when starting the dig for the base so that you can tell the fitting team exactly where you want your garden room installed. Also when our electrician requires access for the installation of the electrics, and to confirm socket positions. Other than that, you can go about your day to day business.

+ DOES A GARDEN ROOM ADD VALUE TO MY HOME?

Yes! Not only does it add value but because our garden rooms are used all year round being fully insulated, it adds massive appeal to prospective buyers looking for more versatility to their new home.

+ CAN YOU SLEEP IN A GARDEN ROOM?

A garden room can be used as an occasional living space, for example, for guests to stay in or for an occasional sleepover. To make it a habitable room, where people are sleeping regularly, would require building regulations, which is something we can help with.

+ CAN GARDEN ROOMS HAVE TOILETS?

Yes. However, building regulations are usually required if connecting to the local sewage system, there are also alternative types of toilet solutions available that do not require this.
